REGISTRATION FOR ETHICS TRAINING

01/21/2011

INTRACARE MEDICAL CENTER

Date: Friday, January 21, 2011
Location: IntraCare Medical Center Hospital
7601 Fannin, 77054
713.790.0949
Presentation: The Ethics of Self-Care
Presenter: Dawn Lawless, MA, LPC

Overview of Presentation: Compassion Fatigue, Burn-out and Stress are all relevant issues in the helping profession that need to be addressed through Self-Care Strategies. This three-hour course will address individual and agency-wide interventions for ethical Self-Care. The information presented will promote the ongoing plight for changing policy so that self-care becomes a standard of care for best practice rather than an afterthought.

Training Objectives: 1) To demonstrate an understanding of the ethical issues relating to the practice of professional self-care as a helping professional; 2) to explore specific conditions impacting professionals such as stress, burnout and compassion fatigue; 3) to identify specific signs and symptoms of these conditions; and 4) to develop practical self-care strategies for promoting resiliency.
